

Robert Parker's

Wine Advocate

ISSUE #188, APRIL 2010

RAMÓN BILBAO 2005 RESERVA

88 POINTS

“Purple-colored, it displays an alluring nose of cedar, tobacco, incense, and assorted black fruits with some tertiary notes from the extended bottle aging. On the palate this medium-bodied effort has a solid core of spicy fruit, enough structure to evolve for another 2-3 years, excellent balance, and a medium-long finish. It will drink well through 2017 if not longer and is an excellent value.”

