

GEORGES DUBŒUF

2009 Juliéñas
Flower Label

87-88+ points

“Five different bottlings of Juliéñas is the record,’ chuckles Dubœuf by way of commenting on the degree to which he thinks 2009 is an optimum vintage for this appellation; and speaking of degree, some lots of Juliéñas, he confirms, reached 16% natural alcohol – the house record – and even the basic Dubœuf 2009 Juliéñas breaks 14%. Dark and almost black-rimmed even by the unusual standards of its vintage, this mingles cherry liqueur and prune in an impressively voluminous but heat-free display of overwhelming fruit. Hints of mint, sage, and salt accent an almost powerful finish, and although – from tank at least – there is a touch of finishing roughness and no particular complexity, one cannot deny that this delivers bang for the buck.”

Robert Parker
Wine Advocate

David Childnecht / #190, August 2010

GEORGES DUBŒUF

2009 Juliéñas
Flower Label

87-88+ points

“Five different bottlings of Juliéñas is the record,’ chuckles Dubœuf by way of commenting on the degree to which he thinks 2009 is an optimum vintage for this appellation; and speaking of degree, some lots of Juliéñas, he confirms, reached 16% natural alcohol – the house record – and even the basic Dubœuf 2009 Juliéñas breaks 14%. Dark and almost black-rimmed even by the unusual standards of its vintage, this mingles cherry liqueur and prune in an impressively voluminous but heat-free display of overwhelming fruit. Hints of mint, sage, and salt accent an almost powerful finish, and although – from tank at least – there is a touch of finishing roughness and no particular complexity, one cannot deny that this delivers bang for the buck.”

Robert Parker
Wine Advocate

David Childnecht / #190, August 2010

GEORGES DUBŒUF

2009 Juliéñas
Flower Label

87-88+ points

“Five different bottlings of Juliéñas is the record,’ chuckles Dubœuf by way of commenting on the degree to which he thinks 2009 is an optimum vintage for this appellation; and speaking of degree, some lots of Juliéñas, he confirms, reached 16% natural alcohol – the house record – and even the basic Dubœuf 2009 Juliéñas breaks 14%. Dark and almost black-rimmed even by the unusual standards of its vintage, this mingles cherry liqueur and prune in an impressively voluminous but heat-free display of overwhelming fruit. Hints of mint, sage, and salt accent an almost powerful finish, and although – from tank at least – there is a touch of finishing roughness and no particular complexity, one cannot deny that this delivers bang for the buck.”

Robert Parker
Wine Advocate

David Childnecht / #190, August 2010

GEORGES DUBŒUF

2009 Juliéñas
Flower Label

87-88+ points

“Five different bottlings of Juliéñas is the record,’ chuckles Dubœuf by way of commenting on the degree to which he thinks 2009 is an optimum vintage for this appellation; and speaking of degree, some lots of Juliéñas, he confirms, reached 16% natural alcohol – the house record – and even the basic Dubœuf 2009 Juliéñas breaks 14%. Dark and almost black-rimmed even by the unusual standards of its vintage, this mingles cherry liqueur and prune in an impressively voluminous but heat-free display of overwhelming fruit. Hints of mint, sage, and salt accent an almost powerful finish, and although – from tank at least – there is a touch of finishing roughness and no particular complexity, one cannot deny that this delivers bang for the buck.”

Robert Parker
Wine Advocate

David Childnecht / #190, August 2010